The Truth About Imperial Russia By Stephen Goodson

In early 1815, Nathan Rothschild approached Czar Alexander I (1801-25) at the Congress of Vienna with a proposal that he set up a central bank in Russia. Whether it was because he distrusted this shady banker or was aware of the perils of central banking is not known, but he prudently declined.

In 1860 The State Bank of the Russian Empire was founded with the aim of boosting trade turnovers and the strengthening of the monetary system. Up to 1894 it was an auxiliary institution under the direct control of the Ministry of Finance. In that year it was transformed into being the banker of the bankers and operated as an instrument of the government's economic policy. It minted and printed the nation's coins and notes, regulated the money supply and through commercial banks provided industry and commerce with very low interest rate loans. Its vast gold reserves, the largest in the world, except for the year 1906 exceeded the bank note issue by more than 100%.

Not unexpectedly Russia had the smallest national debt in the world. The following table reflects the number of rubles per inhabitant in 1908.

France
288.0
Great Britain
169.8
Germany

By 1914 83% of the interest and amortization of the national debt was funded by the profits of the Russian State Railways. In 1916 the total length of the main lines was 100 817 verst or kilometers.

In 1861 Czar Alexander II (1855-81) abolished serfdom, which at that time affected 30% of the population. By 1914 80% of the arable land was in the hands of the peasants. The Peasants' State Bank, described at that time as the "greatest and most socially beneficent institution of land credit in the world" granted loans at a very low rate of interest, which was in effect a handling charge. Between 1901 and 1912 these loans increased from 222 million rubles to 1.168 billion rubles.

Agricultural production soared so that by 1913, Russia had become the world's bread basket as the following table reveals.

Russian agricultural production of cereals exceeded the combined production of Argentina, Canada and the United States by 25%.

Mining and industrial output also expanded by huge margins. Between 1870 and 1914 industrial output grew by 1% per annum in Great Britain, 2.75% per annum in the United States and 3.5% per annum in Russia. During the period 1890 to 1913 industrial production quadrupled and Russian industries were able to satisfy 80% of internal demand for manufactured goods a perfect example of autarky.

With the Russian State bank creating the people's money out of nothing at almost zero interest; as opposed to the rest of the world where central banks allowed parasitic private banks to create their nations' money supply at usurious rates of interest, it comes as no surprise that in 1912 Russia had the lowest levels of taxation in the world. Furthermore there was hardly any inflation.

An independent study by British lawyers concluded that the Russian Code of Laws and judiciary were "the most advanced and impartial in the world." Elementary education was obligatory and free right up to university level.

In labour relations the Russians were pioneers. Child labour was abolished over 100 years before it was abolished in Great Britain in 1867. Strikes, which were forbidden in the Soviet Union, were minimal in Czarist times. Labour laws were so advanced and humane that President William Taft was moved to say that "the Emperor of Russia has passed workers' legislation which was nearer to perfection than that of any democratic country." The Czar and his state bank had created a workers' paradise that was unrivalled in the history of mankind.

On November 7, 1917, the Rothschilds, fearful that replication of this extraordinary example of freedom and prosperity would destroy their evil banking empire, instigated a Judeo-Bolshevik revolution in Russia, which wrecked and ruined a wonderful country and resulted in the deaths by murder and starvation, according to Alexander Solzhenitsyn, of 66 million innocent people.

Thanks for this newnsign, I learned a lot. This history makes more sense than the "official" history that's for sure

No wonder the evil usurers created the Bolsheviks to eliminate the Czars. Can't allow the citizens of prosperous nations to flourish, that's verboten, they may get fancy ideas

Incidentally, do you know what the current situation in Russia is vis a vis the ownership of their central bank? Are the western usurers still running the Russian central bank? Does Russia issue state money rather than the usurers debt trap money? Do you, or does anyone else, know?

Thanks Pete. Yes just like the Germans our Saxon cousins, the Russians are now being demonised. As you rightly say, Communism was imposed on Russia by London, Washington DC and the Vatican and they had to import Jews into Russia to get the revolution going and to get some of the natives on board, the Rothschilds had bought up vast tracks of land and charged rents that the land could not produce enough to pay. Regarding the Moscow Central Bank, its a mystery, but I rather suspect that it is still controlled by London, but with their vast amount of Gold and other mineral wealth, Putin was able to take control of these by exiling the Jewish Oligarchs and thereby strengthen the Rouble. Many of the Jewish Chameleons are no doubt hidden away in the Russian bureaucracy. and are able to cause problems. At the Russian May Day parade, that the state is somewhat divided, was signalled by the fact it was led by the Russian Red, white and blue flag follower by the Soviet red duster. We will have to see whether Moscow and true Russia can root out the satanic aliens who our government as well!
